

Steward Learning Series – Dean McMillan

Summary

- Reviewed scenarios involving grievances from workers and had a discussion as to how we would deal with and process the workers request
- Worked in groups to get to know other members and what type of fields they may be in, therefore, learning about different collective agreements
- Learning about products within our work environment that could be detrimental to a worker's health and how suggesting greener products for worker's could help to improve their environment eg. Cleaning with vinegar and water instead of a chemical that could affect a worker negatively
