

Steward Learning Series

February 28th & March 1st 2015

Sheraton Conference Centre, Toronto

I would like to thank the Union for allowing me to attend further training as part of the Steward Learning Series held at the Sheraton Conference Centre in Toronto.

The 'Being an Ally for Equality' and 'Mobilizing Workers' modules covered were part of the Steward learning series. They were very informative and offered some different perspectives on the wants and needs of the workers within our union. The modules also provided insight on how 'Allies' may be viewed by their peers as well as covering some of the challenges faced by locals in having members actively participate, succession planning and building solidarity.

I look forward to continuing to build my skills and knowledge and use it to assist our members when they need it.
